To keep you updated:

FYI - our favourite "Royal Dutch Shell plc" website is now carrying a version of the Guardian story. It also refers back to the statement in May which said that Thornton would continue for the "foreseeable future". I can't send the link as today I can't access that site from my computer (please back me up if I am accused of collaborating with the Donovans!! I was only looking at it in context of the current media activity)

Regards

Subject: FYI - update on Thornton

- sharing this with you as the Donovan website has now posted the story.
Best wishes
